

PEO FOR BSIT

Three to five years after finishing the BSIT, graduates of this program should have :

1. Applied their computing knowledge and skills in the design, implementation, maintenance and security of computer-based systems evident in their IT related jobs.
2. Acquired local and international IT certificates, awards and recognitions through their professional contributions that bring technological benefits to the society.
3. Conducted themselves as responsible professionals by continuously performing the best practices of the industry along with the emerging and evolving demands of technology.
4. Developed oral and written communication skills as member of a team.